Sir,

I have the honor to State that in December last the Honorary President of the Bangalore City Municipal Council brot to my notice that the effluvia caused by the Blood Manufactory established by Mr. H. Shafford at the 4th furlong of the 4½ mile on the Mysore Road are most noxious and unwholesome, and that a large number of the residents of Chamarajapet and other neighbouring parts are continually exposed to them. He also requested me to take necessary steps under section 133 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code, or any other law in force, to have the Manufactory shifted to some less objectionable locality. On this the City Magistrate was requested to take action under Section 133 of the Criminal Procedure Code. He after recording

Bangalore City.

Whereas it has been made to appear to me that you are carrying on, as owner or manager, the trade of manufacturing blood manure near the mysore road just beyond the new mahamadan burial ground and that the same is injurious to the public health or comfort by reason of the offensive smell emanating from the said factory during the process of drying blood to convert it to manure and that it should be suppressed or removed to a different place, I. do hereby under Section 133(1) Criminal procedure Code Conditionally direct and require you within the 30th may 1914 to cease carrying on the said trade or occupation at

to the said place and not again to carry on the same, or to remove the said trade from the place where it is now carried on or to appear before me on the 15th inst. 1914 and move to have this order set aside or modified according to law

Given under my hand and the seal of the Court this 6/7 day of May 1914.

RESOLUTION.

In persuance of the Resolution that was passed at our meeting of the 29th May 1914, the Foreman and the Jurors visited the locality on 31-5-1914 at 5 P.M. Mr. Stafford and the Health Officer were both present. The wind was blowing in a N.E. direction and we walked along the road. For about a 100 yards we were smelling the stench, more particularly from the direction towards which the wind was blowing. As Mr. Stafford suggested that he would adopt the oven process and do certain other things by which the smell coming out of the tubs and the drying ground, &c. would be considerably palliated, we agreed to visit the locality again and find out if the suggestions would really abate the nuisance to any extent. We accordingly fixed another date for the visit and actually visited the place on the 14th at 5 P.M. The wind blew in a N.W. direction and consequently there was not much smell on the road side. We went down ~~then~~ in the valley in the direction of the wind and we felt the nuisance to some extent, but not to the same extent to which we felt on the previous occasion. Mr. Stafford on this occasion kept all the tubs closed and the oven process was adopted.

2. We met again in the Senior Surgeon's Office on the 17th, when both Mr. Stafford and the Health Officer addressed us from their respective stand points.

Mr. Stafford undertakes to adopt certain remedial measures which he has reduced to writing.

The Health Officer thinks that in the spite of these measures the nuisance will remain unabated.

We are informed that Mr. Stafford's present contract will cease in about 8 months.

3. Giving the matter our careful & anxious consideration, we are unanimously of opinion that Mr. Stafford may be permitted to continue his occupation in the present locality till the termination of his present contract, provided-

I have ~~th~~ been directed by the Bangalore City Municipality, to appear before the Court in respondence to the Court order dated 19th August 1914, re - the nuisance -- caused by Mr.Stafford by his blood-manure factory in the Mysore Road. Mr.Stafford has conformed to the condition of the order dated 23rd June 1914 issued by this Court. He has not been permitting the slaughtering of the horses at the factory. The British Military authorities seem to slaughter their horses there against the wish of Mr.Staffo Action is being taken to prevent this also by the Municipality separately. As regards Mr.Stafford, he has obeyed the order of this Court and no further action seems necessary in his case.

Interpreted and admitted to be correct.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. 3310/L.B. 102-14-4 dated 26th October 1914 forwarding copy of communication received from the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, on the subject of the nuisance arising from the blood curing factory along Mysore Road and enquiring what steps have been taken to abate the same, I have the honor to forward herewith Health Officer's memo on the subject explaining how after the order of the Magistrate forbidding the shooting of animals at the premises was issued, Mr. Stafford was still believed to be permitting it and was accordingly prosecuted a second time during the middle part of August last. Mr. Stafford, however, proved to my satisfaction that the occurrence was due to a mistake on the part of the Military authorities and that proper steps had been taken to prevent its recurrence in future. The case was therefore withdrawn during the early
